GAELS WILL PLAY FOR CHARITY

The above action picture shows Boat of St. Mary's about to make the 45-yard pass to F. Canrinus that put the ball on Santa Clara's three-yard line, paving the way for the Gael's second touchdown. St. Mary's will tangle with U. C. L. A. at the coliseum tomorrow in a game for charity.

GAUCHOS ROLL UP Big Percentage Against Oilers

Lomita Lads Score At Will Over Marine Cellar Champs

Narbonne tore through the El Segundo line almost at will last Friday and defeated the Oil City boys, 46 to 6, thereby running up the largest score that has been made this season in a Marine League game. In the five games played by the Gauchos, Ben Comrada's boys have scored 110 points against 12 for their opponents, which record far outclasses anything scored by the other nine teams in the league.

Last Friday's game was a complete rout for the El Segundo lads. Substantial gains were made by the Gaucho backs, who rolled up a total of seven touchdowns, and the linemen did their part by opening up the way and by presenting a stiff defense when El Segundo had the ball.

Narbonne's next and last game of the present season will be played against Jordan, their only rivals for the top berth this year.

Narbonne has won five straight games, Jordan has won four and tied one. Should the latter win today, the teams will be tied for the championship, with Jordan having a slight edge because of no defeats.

Should Narbonne win, this year will be the fourth time that the laurel has rested on the brows of the Narbonne warriors.

During the six years that Narbonne has been a member of the Marine League, the Gauchos have finished the football season as follows:

1926—Champions. (During this season the Gauchos beat Torrance 7-0, the same score by which they defeated the Tartars this year.)

1927—Champions. Lost no games.

1928—Lost to Bell and Gardena.

1929—Champions. Lost one game to Gardena.

1930—Placed third. Lost to Washington, and tied Riis.

1931—Tied for championship. Lost to Leuzinger.

1932—Prospective champions.

Notre Dame Tickets On Sale Next Monday

LOS ANGELES.—Public sale of tickets to the Southern California Notre Dame game here December 10 will open Monday morning, November 14. It was announced today by Arnold Eddy, general manager of the associated students.

The closing date of applications for this game under the various preferred classifications such as are held by alumni and season ticket holders is set for Thursday and Eddy urges all fans holding priority blanks to mail them in immediately.

Tickets for the Notre Dame contest will be $1.40 and $2.20. In the public sale they may be obtained at the Trojan Students store at 36th street and University avenue, the Dyas company at 7th and Olive streets and the Broadway Hollywood at Hollywood boulevard and Vine street.

Pomona Man Invents Plane Safety Device

Described by aeronautical experts as a startling invention that adds the final touch to the safety in flying, a stabilizing device invented by Dr. C. H. Nance of Pomona will be demonstrated to the public in a three-day exhibition at the Grand Central Air terminal, Glendale, beginning on Armistice Day, November 11.

The invention makes possible the operation of an airplane without the pilot touching the controls. It further keeps the craft constantly on an even keel, so that in the event of a crash in the infested territory, a nose-over of the ship with consequent injuries and possible death to its occupants is entirely eliminated, according to Dr. Nance.

MARRIAGE APPLICATION
An application for license to marry was received this week at Los Angeles, contracting parties George H. Cook, 22, and Grace V. Buck, 19, both of Torrance.

Tartars Spring Big Surprise On Banning Pilots

Revamped Torrance Squad Holds Wilmington to Tie Score

A revamped line-up met the Banning Pilots on the Torrance field last Friday afternoon, when the Tartars surprised everybody by holding the Pilots to a tie score, 0-0.

Previous calculations had placed this game in the Wilmington column. A low score, was the best that had been expected from Torrance, who were fighting against odds.

Banning had lost but one game this season, to the Narbonne Gauchos, had won two and tied one, so that they were doped to be the favorites in this tilt.

A young lad by the name of Bill Parke, third string man, who because of the ravages of injuries, the flu and other causes, had been shoved into the left tackle position, was the leading cause of the Pilots downfall. Bill was in every play and broke up numerous Banning formations. He smeared the man with the ball time after time, and ruined the day for the cocky Wilmington lads.

Torrance, using the Notre Dame shift, completely outplayed Banning during the first three quarters.

The Pilots' best chance to score came during the last period when they had the ball on the Torrance 20-yard line. Unable to gain against a stiffened Torrance line they lost the ball on downs and never got within striking distance of the goal after that.

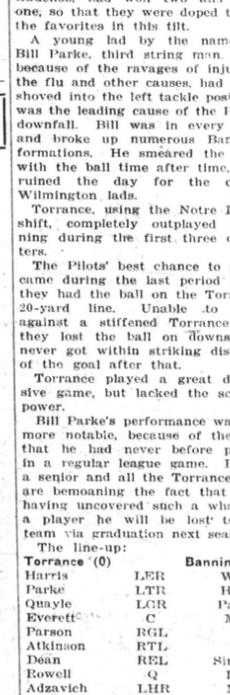

Torrance played a great defensive game, but lacked the scoring power.

Bill Parke's performance was the more notable, because of the fact that he had never before played in a regular league game. Bill is a senior and all the Torrance fans are bemoaning the fact that after having uncovered such a whale of a player he will be lost to the team via graduation next season.

The line-up:

Torrance (0)	Banning (0)
Harris	LER
Parke	LTR
Quayle	LCR
Everett	C
Parson	RGL
Atkinson	RTL
Dean	REB
Rowell	Q
Adzavich	LHR

FAIR MEANS OR FOUL!

Jack Oakie (left) has been given "the works" by sure-thing racketeers who fixed his first fight in "Madison Square Garden" so that he'd be certain to lose. Warren Hymer plays the role of his second in this scene. "Madison Square Garden" is the attraction at the Torrance Theatre, with a host of old-time sports heroes augmenting the large cast of featured film players on Sunday and Monday, Nov. 13-14.

Next Season May Bring New Cut In Football Prices

General Drop in Attendance Forecasts Lower Admissions

Sagging attendances at 1932 college football games, even for the stand-out attractions, presages further reductions in ticket costs next season.

Prices were reduced generally this season, notably by Fordham in the East, Stanford in the far West, Missouri in the Midwest, and Tulane and Texas in the South.

These ticket cuts ranged from $3.50 to $2.75, to $3 to $2. The schools mentioned, as well as others which did not make price concessions as great as the ones listed, are certain to make new slashes if they wish their attendance figures to remain anywhere near constant.

Obviously, there are two reasons which could be advanced for attendance decreases this year, and they are depression and waning football interest.

The former reason probably is the more important one, but even when times are brighter, it's doubtful if football fans will be unambiguously interested to the tune of $8.50 or $6.60 for a pair of tickets more than once each season at most.

It is difficult to understand the reasoning of athletic officials who, in the face of decreased patronage, refuse to make proper price concessions.

Yale, for example, "has not and will not" cut ticket prices. Schools which follow this policy, or which make only slight cuts, may get nowhere. A stadium only half filled at $4 per seat brings no more revenue than one filled at $2. And the game itself suffers, for the crowd itself, if it is a big one, is half the show.

Football is a long way from being dead, and we'll be having the game with us for more years than most of us will live, but a good way to maintain its allure is to bring the cost of watching it down to reasonable levels.

Most big games should cost no more than $2 per seat and virtually all games should cost no more than $1 per seat.

Marine Basketball Season Opens Soon

Marine League basketball games will start within the next two weeks. The Narbonne schedule starts off with a game between the two local rivals, Torrance and Narbonne, Wednesday, November 23, at the Narbonne gym.

Other games listed for Narbonne are: December 2, at South Gate; December 9, El Segundo at Narbonne; December 16, Banning at Narbonne; January 13, at Leuzinger; January 20, at Bell.
